Annexation Projects in Nevada

The San Francisco Call says.
Some Nevada newspapers are advocating the acquisition of territory to lighten the burden of State Government. At present Nevada is under a cloud. Some of her old mining districts are unproductive, and new ones have not filled their place, though developments are constantly being made. Montana, Arizona and other new districts have drawn away many Nevada miners, the agricultural resources of the State are in their infancy, much of the State land has been practically grabbed in large lots by speculators, who have possessed themselves of the scanty water supply and by that means control great neighboring tracts, the impulsive action of the Board of Regents in raising the price of State lands, under the competition of United States and railroad lands has checked sales, the State is heavily indebted to the school fund, and is borrowing from the University fund to pay current expenses, the cost of a State government is a heavy burden for a small population to bear, and altogether the prospect of the immediate future is not favorable to any great increase in taxable values.

Under these circumstances the project is breached to annex the southern portion of Grant and Baker counties, Oregon, and Owyhee county, Idaho, to Nevada. The two Oregon counties are separated by mountain ranges, impassable during the winter, from the State capital, and have nothing in common, except taxation, with Oregon, and it is stated that large property-holders there favor annexation to Nevada. Public opinion in Owyhee county, Idaho, is also said to be favorable to the scheme. The fact that many of the property-holders of these counties are residents of Nevada may account for this statement.

It is possible that the desire for annexation may be less pronounced among other residents of these counties. The Nevada papers will naturally favor the idea of Nevadans. Citizens of Oregon and Idaho, when heard from, may object to casting their lot with overtaxed Nevada. That State is not dead yet. There are influences and tendencies now at work which will in time revive her prosperity.

Beef Shipping.

Albuquerque (N. M.) Journal.

There is a movement on foot in this city to organize a refrigerator company for the slaughter of cattle in New Mexico and Arizona and the shipment of the dressed meats to the Eastern markets. Just where the establishment will be located has not yet been determined. A gentleman in this city who is interested in the movement said yesterday to a Journal reporter that the rates for the shipment of live cattle to the East from New Mexico and Arizona were so high that between one-third and one-half the profits were absorbed in the cost of transportation. This evil would be corrected by the establishment of refrigerator works and the shipment of dressed beef.

Quinn Bonham is a Nebraska poet. He is in jail for killing a man in a dispute over the spelling of the word "peddler." Quinn is quite right in making a terrible example of somebody in this world's wilderness of bad spells.

Rev Dr. Sunderland, pastor of the Washington church where the President has a pew, last Sunday went to bat against newspapers. He said that "editorials are written at the midnight hour by beardless boys or inebriated men."

When Rubenstein was introduced to Josh Billings, the pianist talked of his ancient ancestry. "One of my forefathers," said he, "accompanied Barbarossa." "On the piano, I suppose," said the humorist.

Kalifa Abdullah is the name of the gentleman who succeeded El Mahdi in the prophet business, and is leader of the rag, tag and bobtail of the Soudan. He is described as a small potato and a coward.

Chicago is excited by the story that a man on entering a street car on a rainy day took off his rubber coat and folded it, so as not to drench the seat nor those who sat near him. The rumor is bitterly denied in St. Louis.

Mr. MacDonald has spent several years in Ludlow-street Jail, New York, for contempt of Court. It must have been a high-stepping breed of contempt.

Iowa has five women lawyers and one hundred and twenty-two women physicians. Some of the latter are skillful and celebrated.

SUNDAY.....NOVEMBER 15, 1885.

Proclamation.

WHEREAS, The President of the United States has designated and set apart Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November, as a day of public thanksgiving and prayer;

Therefore, I, J. W. Adams, Governor of the State of Nevada, in deference to the proclamation of the President of the United States, and in conformity with the custom of my predecessors, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November, 1885, as a day of public thanksgiving, and do earnestly recommend an observance of the same by the people of this State.

Done at Carson City, Nevada, this 12th day of November, 1885.

J. W. ADAMS.

By the Governor:

J. M. DORMER,

Secretary of State.

NEVADA POLITICS.

The Ogden News, of late date, published the annexed:

Unless the Democrats can carry the election in Nevada next year, or, at least, secure a majority of the State Senators and Representatives, the Senate of the United States will be without a Democratic representative from the Pacific Coast States upon the expiration of the term of Hon. James G. Fair, March 3, 1887. It is reasonable to expect that the Democrats will make an earnest effort to carry the Legislative ticket in Nevada; but it is not fair to assume that they will have an easy job on their hands. Senator Fair is said to be desirous of re-election and, so far as heard from, is the only prominent Democrat who has been seriously talked of; while several well-known Republicans, residents and non-residents of the State, are mentioned as "in the field."

It is not probable that the fight will be what was known as "a money fight" in Nevada up to the last general election in that State, which resulted in a Republican victory and the re-election of Hon. John P. Jones to the United States Senate for a third term. Senator Jones' re-election, last winter, was accomplished without the expenditure of a dollar more than was required to meet the legitimate expenses of the campaign; and the proudest boast which he can make, to-day, is, that he is now a Senator of the United States from Nevada because the people of the State—many Democrats and all the Republicans—knew that he had been faithful to their interests and wanted him to continue serving them. If the Senator next chosen can take his seat with as clean a title as Senator Jones holds to his own seat, Nevada will be honored in the eyes of the Nation and the World.

Unless the Democracy can secure a numerical preponderance in the United States Senate next year, the present Administration will not be thoroughly Democratic. The Republicans now have a majority of seven or eight in the Senate, and will continue to have a majority, at least until March, 1887.

Among the names of Republican gentlemen who stand out prominently before the people in connection with the Senatorship from Nevada are those of ex-Senator William M. Stewart, John W. Mackay, Rollin M. Daggett, and W. S. Hobart. Either of these gentlemen would honor his party and the State in the United States Senate; but if we, a non-resident of Nevada, have any preference for one over another, we do not at present propose to state it.

The October report of the Superintendent of the Insane Asylum at Stockton shows the total number of patients on November 1st to have been 1,400. The average cost a day for each, during the six months ending October 31st, was thirty-five and a half cents. This seems cheap enough, but the Nevada State Asylum at Reno, with a much smaller number of inmates, is maintained at a great deal lower rate per capita. And yet almost all supplies cost more in Nevada than in California. What is the occasion of the greater proportionate cost of running the Stockton institution? Perhaps the Reno or Stockton papers can throw some light on the matter.—Sacramento Bee.

The Bee is mistaken. The per capita at the Nevada Asylum is 56 cents, and that is just one-half of the cost to the State when the patients were farmed out to Langdon & Clark, at Woodbridge. We hope, in time, to reduce the cost to 40 cents.

The report of General Johnston, United States Railroad Commissioner, is said to be a disappointment to those who expected a material departure with reference to land grants.

THE PECKSNIFFIANS.

The Elko Independent remarks:

It is quite amusing to observe how the high moral sense of Nevada's Republican organs revolts at the idea of a millionaire non-resident again representing the State in the United States Senate. These virtuous journals can scarcely find language sufficiently forcible to express their disgust at such a gross violation of all the moral and political proprieties. And yet these same righteous roosters would crow right lustily if John Mackay, with his sack, or the sack, without John Mackay, would only stand for the position. While these gentlemen feel scandalized at the suspected candidacy of Fair there would be nothing objectionable in the advancement of the millionaire non-resident Mackay. The prospect now is, however, that a successful raid cannot be made on the Mackay sack, and these over-scrupulous gentlemen are now at their wits ends to find some noble Republican Roman, undefiled and untrammeled with the least resemblance to anything like a sack, who is desirous of immolating himself upon the altar of disappointed ambition upon the glorification of the Republican party of the Sagebrush State.

Ex-Senator Hill and Silver.

Ex-Senator Hill, of Colorado, who has been invited to address the Commercial Club of Providence on the silver question, said Thursday afternoon: "If we do not maintain the price of silver and use it as currency, there will be a large contraction in the volume of money and a very disastrous falling off in prices generally. The production of gold is decreasing, and we are now drawing largely upon the gold money of the world to obtain a sufficient quantity for manufacture. I believe when the silver question comes up in Congress the majority will be found in favor of continuing the coinage."

A Large Gift by Senator Stanford.

Rev. Dr. Price (colored) of Zion College, North Carolina, has made a good start in his work. Senator Stanford has subscribed $5,000 to the college, on condition that the rest of the $10,000 be raised on this coast. Dr. Price thinks he can secure the whole amount.

No carpet baggers need apply for the Nevada U. S. Senatorship. The people won't have it.—Reno Journal.

That's what we won't, Christopher. No carpet bag goes any more in this State—unless it is well crammed with greenbacks or gold notes.—Tuscarora Times-Review.

Oh, well, of course, that's a horse of another color.

There is some talk of trying to induce Vanderbilt, Conkling or Blaine to be candidates for the Senate from Nevada.—Reno Journal.

What is the matter with Jay Gould? He would make a good candidate.—Carson Index.

The more the merrier.

The Carson Tribune says: There is no longer any doubt as to the intention of Hon. W. M. Stewart being a candidate for the position of U. S. Senator, as he takes no means to deny the soft impeachment.

Powers, of Utah, is the supposed Judge who caused Cleveland to write that letter. A strong effort will be made to prevent his confirmation.

There are three reported candidates for the Nevada Senatorship—Fair, Daggett and Stewart. In the language of numerous exchanges, "Let a Nevada man represent Nevada in the United States Senate."—Carson Index.

The Reno JOURNAL suggests Prof. Howe, Principal of the Carson schools, as Principal of the State University. This is an excellent choice, but the Carson people say they cannot spare him.—Genoa Courier.

IN THE FAR AWAY.—Already they talk of David Bennett Hill as the candidate of the national Democracy in 1888. Well, we might do a great deal worse. There is good stuff in David B.—New York Sun.

General S. H. Marlette is being strongly urged as a candidate on the Republican ticket next Fall for Surveyor-General. A capable man and staunch Republican.—Carson Tribune.

Hon. Thos. Wren, of Eureka, is not a candidate for Senator. Mr. Wren evidently believes that a Nevada man need not apply.—Carson Index.

The New York Grant monument fund has reached $98,627 28.

Why Not Come to the Silver Basin?

Under the above heading the New York Sun, in a double-leaded editorial, makes these pertinent remarks:

It is not worth while to discuss in detail the silver certificate scheme devised by the Hon. A. J. Warner, and which he proposes to present to Congress at its next session. The mere statement of its fundamental principle is fatal to it. It would be as absurd to make storage receipts for silver bullion into legal tender money as it would be to make such money out of receipts for copper, iron, lead, wheat, pork, corn, or any other commodity. If silver is to be treated like merchandise and its value computed like other merchandise, in terms of gold, as Mr. Warner proposes, it cannot be a standard of value, and is practically demonetized.

This is Mr. Warner's mistake. He assumes gold as his standard of value, measures silver by it, and then offers to make the silver at this gold value into money. Gold is, and would remain, under the provisions of his bill, the money monarch, and all the evils of gold monometallism, from which the countries subject to it are now suffering, would be perpetuated. He aims to demonetize silver quite as effectually as the most bigoted gold monometallist could desire, and to thrust it forth to keep company with other articles bought and sold in the market for gold. The fall in prices, which, under the gold standard, has paralyzed business during the past five years, would continue, and the oppression of debtors, by making them pay as much more in liquidation of their debts as the nominal value of their property has diminished, would be as severe as ever.

The proper measure for the emergency is to execute fully the provisions of the Bland-Allison Act just as they stand. Instead of coining 2,000,000 of silver dollars a month, coin 4,000,000 of them. This with the 2,000,000 already coined, will gradually but surely bring us to a silver basis and make the prices of commodities conform nearly to what they were five years ago. The gold now in the country will remain as a reserve for the liquidation of foreign debts in case it should be wanted; and if in the course of events silver advances in value or gold declines, we shall remain ready to take advantage of the change.

The Carson Mint.

The Enterprise correctly remarks:

The Democratic National Administration had hardly been installed into office before its influence for evil was felt in Nevada. The only Federal institution in our State, the United States Branch Mint at Carson, was immediately chosen to serve the purpose of illustrating Democratic ideas of economy. The working force was reduced, and an agent from Washington arrived at Carson, who proceeded at once to scale down the wages of nearly all the employees, more particularly of the class whose labor is of a physical character and who earn their living by the sweat of their brow. The next step was to close the coining department and dismiss all connected with it, including many young women whose sole dependence was their employment. It now became apparent that the game at Washington was to permanently suspend operations at and close the institution for good, evidence of which purpose was soon forthcoming in the removal to Washington of all the coin and bullion on hand. The Branch Mint having been thus effectually depleted of its treasure the final blow was easy to give. It has come in the shape of an order from Dr. Kimball, Director of the Mint, to close the establishment "to the receipt of deposits, and to discontinue the services of all clerks, assistants and workmen not necessary for closing present accounts and protecting the property." To add insult to injury, Dr. Kimball assigns as the reason for his present action that "the yield of the mining industry once centering at Carson is now practically reduced to nothing, so whatever reason there once was for the existence of the Carson Mint, none longer prevails."

The yield of the mining industry now centering at Carson is sufficient to keep the Carson Mint in operation without any loss to the Government. Besides, how does Mr. Director Kimball know what a day may bring forth in this country? If that gentleman were to give the real reason for closing the Carson Mint we would be frankly informed that there is none except the desire of those in authority at Washington to make a very little cheap capital as Democratic reformers.

Suppose there is one cent saved in the daily expenses of every man, woman and child in the Union. This is certainly not a high estimate, but it would make a yearly saving of $3 65 a head, or $200,750,000 a year. In the three years of retrenchment a total of $602,250,000 would be obtained. This money has to go into something, never mind whether it be into dry goods, agricultural implements, chattels or stocks and bonds. Now, while it has been saved, the earning capacities of the country have not decreased. It is the economizing and steady making of money which form the basis of the remarkable change in the general temper of the business and speculative community. People feel that they are better off and that they can embark in new ventures.

Some interesting facts may be brought out by the judicious employment of figures, as instance this showing in behalf of economy, by Rigolo, the New York Sun's Wall street editor:

Samuel A. Chapin, of Boston, Mass., is visiting California, and expects to remain until the coming Spring. He owns valuable land in Alameda county and a fifty-acre orchard near San Jose. Mr. Chapin, who is an uncle of Geo. W. Chapin, removed from California in the Spring of '84. He settled there at an early day. Removing to Virginia City, Nev., he engaged in the lumber trade, and was a leading member of the convention that framed the Constitution of this State. He addressed that body on education, the Grand Jury system, finance and other commanding questions.

The officers were informed that he had not been drinking lately.

TEXAS.

A CARSONITE'S OPINION OF THE LONE STAR STATE.

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 7, 1885.
EDITOR TRIBUNE—I find this State simply immense in cotton land, cattle, climate and all else that goes to make a great State, and am sure that he who comes here to stay will find a great future unfolded within the next twenty years. One thing that is noticeable to a marked degree is the effort made to place educational institutions of the State on a high plane. In the cotton section there is no failure of crops. No matter how poor the year, there is always a partial crop.

Yours Truly,
Geo. H. MORRISON.

CIRCULAR TO CATTLE AND HORSE MEN.

A circular has been received at this office from H. M. Taylor, Secretary, at Denver, Colorado, relative to a range organization, of an international character, of cattle and horse men. It embraces an address, issued by the Executive Committee of the Colorado Cattle Growers' Association on the 5th instant, to the range cattle and horse growers of the arid regions of the United States, Northern Mexico and British Columbia, recommending that they meet in Denver, Colorado, for the purpose of organizing an International Range Cattle and Horse Growers' Association. This address states that the experience of the past season has demonstrated the fact that the marketing of immature cattle is not satisfactory to either buyer or seller, and entails an annual loss of millions of dollars without any compensating benefits to the beef consumers of the nation, and that it is hoped an effective centralized organization, under the management of conscientious and experienced stockmen, can so regulate the business as to insure satisfactory returns for the yearly beef product, and at the same time materially increase the market supply for the masses of the people at moderate prices.

ALBION VS RICHMOND.

The Albion Mining Company of Eureka sued the Richerond Company of that place for several hundred thousand dollars damages for ore extracted from the Albion mine. The jury found a verdict for the Albion for about $11,000. The Albion applied for a new trial on the ground that the damages were not sufficient, and that the jury had been tampered with. The District Court granted a new trial and the Richmond appealed from its decision. Now the Supreme Court has affirmed the order of the Eureka Court, and the case unless compromised, will be tried again.

A POPULAR DRINKING RESORT.

The Granite saloon, under the proprietorship of George Becker, is to the front as one of the most popular drinking resorts on the Truckee. The popularity is due in a great measure to the introduction of new and palatable mixed drinks. While drinking one of his delicious chocolate cocktails, knickerbock or finely flavored milk punches, the partaker finds himself wishing that his throat was a mile in length, so that the delightful sensation it produces might be prolonged.

A PRACTICAL FARMER.

HE TRIES THE "GOLD-BUG" THEORY IN DISPOSING OF HIS PRODUCTS.

The Silver State says:

An honest farmer on Big Meadows, who read the Reno Gazette's silver theories, and who was ignorant of the fact that they were penned by the irate editor while laboring under a temporary aberration of mind superinduced by the contemplation of a standard dollar, concluded that if increasing the quantity of silver in a dollar, increased the demand for bullion, putting 2,250 pounds in a ton of potatoes must necessarily make a more active market for the tubers, of which he had several tons to spare. To test the matter practically he came to Winnemucca, ascertained the price of potatoes per ton, and agreed to sell a hotel-keeper 2,250 pounds at the market price of the ordinary ton. By this method he discovered that he could dispose of his vegetables much quicker than by the ordinary way, but he could not see how he was benefitted by the transaction. He knew he had sold more potatoes, but had received no more money than if he had given only the legal weight for a ton, and he is thoroughly convinced by his experience, that there is nothing in the Gazette's theory for the farmer or mamer, and he is satisfied with the weight and size of the standard dollar, as it is, and is willing to sell his surplus vegetables and hay and take his pay in standard dollars, which, so long as they are a legal tender, are just as useful to him, to pay his taxes and store-bill, as if they contained 500 grains of silver each.

THE STANFORD UNIVERSITY.

The Philadelphia Telegraph has an editorial on Senator Stanford's magnificent University endowment, in which it says: "It is more than double the Girard College endowment and an enterprise of such enormous proportions cannot fail to profoundly impress the many circles of intellectual life. Especially will it influence the growth of culture on the Pacific Coast giving, unless the plans fatally miscarry, that new land a more equal relation to the East, than it has, or than in the natural course of events it could secure in many years. This more than princely endowment will give an income sufficient to support an institution of the grade of Harvard, independent of fees from students. It may prove nothing but a dream, but enthusiasm over the picture is as excusable as it is irresistible. One of the surest pledges of success is the fact that the University is to be largely devoted to technical education."

OREGON VS THE U. S.

The Lakeview Examiner of last Thursday says:

Charles W. Frush, U. S. Marshal, started from Lakeview to Portland Friday having in charge Mr. Poor, of Ayers Poor & Co., of Bidwell, and several witnesses, charged with violently restraining settlers from occupying government lands. These gentlemen have a certificate from the State for a tract of swamp land (so called) near Bidwell, and McKinnis was in the act of putting up a house thereon, when this firm promptly tore it down. McKinnis complained to the Interior with the above result. The decision as to who is the owner of the land, is anxiously awaited.
